

Pulse

Pulse is an African podcast produced by AfricaFiles in collaboration with rabble.ca (which also carries AfricaFiles articles in its “In Cahoots” section). Pulse aims to podcast alternative African voices on current issues.

Download Pulse podcasts at:
www.africafiles.org/podcast.asp
or www.rabble.ca/rpn/afr

Resources

AfricaFiles online resources include:

- Archives with over 23,000 fully searchable articles
- Links to over 225 African rights and justice groups
- Southern Africa Report issues, published by TCLSAC
- Photos on African stories
- Afro Probe with down-loadable education modules.

Access our Resources at:
www.africafiles.org/afresearch.asp

About Us

AfricaFiles is an online network of people committed to Africa. It was launched early in 2002 by a group of volunteers who came together to explore ways to express their solidarity with Africa and to work for justice. Today our volunteers and workers are located in a number of countries both in Africa and the North.

You can join us too! Learn more at www.africafiles.org/joinus.asp.

Support Us

You can support our work by:

- Sending a donation. For a tax receipt, make your cheque payable to “United Church of Canada”, attention “AfricaFiles”. Send it to the address below.
- Donating online at: www.africafiles.org/supportus.asp
- Encouraging your group to make an annual subscription
- Telling others about our website and social media.

AfricaFiles

300 Bloor St West, Room 21
Toronto, Ontario
Canada, M5S 1W3

An online network of people committed to the promotion of human rights, economic justice, African perspectives and alternative analyses.

www.africafiles.org

info@africafiles.org

www.africafiles.org/rsslist.asp

twitter.com/africafiles

www.facebook.com/pages/AfricaFiles/152235367828

AfricaFiles’ programmes:

- 1. At Issue – an online magazine featuring series of provocative original articles on topical issues;
- 2. InfoServ – a listserve and online information service with news, opinion and analysis;
- 3. Action Focus – an advocacy and solidarity nexus with urgent action appeals;
- 4. Pulse – an African podcast offering uncensored downloads on current events and culture;
- 5. Resources – photos, archives, links, Southern Africa Report, education modules, and more.

At Issue

At Issue is an online magazine featuring series of provocative and well-researched original articles on topical issues. Each series lasts several months and includes an editorial and related articles.

Major issues examined thus far include:

- Education and the MDGs
- Corruption
- Oil in Africa
- Land Reform
- The Problem of Small Arms
- China in Africa
- Economic Empowerment of African Women
- South Africa in Africa
- Impacts of Climate Change
- Perspectives on Darfur
- The DR Congo in Africa

These issues are all archived on the website.

The editorial policy and the subject of the next issue can be viewed online. Enquiries may be sent to: info@africafiles.org.

Read the current At Issue at:
www.africafiles.org/atissueezine.asp

InfoServ

InfoServ is a free listserve and online information service with news, opinion and analysis. It is staffed by approximately 20 volunteer editors who select and post reflective articles, reports and analyses of African events, issues and people. These are drawn from a variety of sources, mostly within Africa, including NGOs, CBOs, church communicators, activists, news groups and freelance writers.

Besides regular articles, there are also analytical articles of interest to teachers, students, specialists and researchers. These are highlighted by a magnifying glass icon.

The free listserve (email service) brings you about four articles each month from each of the sections chosen when you sign up. You can change your choices at any time.

About 300 InfoServ articles are added to AfricaFiles' Archive every month. It now has more than 23,000 articles. You can easily search them by topic or keywords.

Access all current articles at:
www.africafiles.org/afinfoserv.asp
Sign up for the listserve at:
www.africafiles.org/joinus.asp

There are 22 sections in InfoServ:

- 4 regions:
Central, Eastern, Southern, Western.
- 3 countries:
Angola, Sudan, Zimbabwe.
- 15 topics:
Africa General, Africa History, Africa Union, Culture, Ecology, Economic Justice, Food & Land, Gender, Health & AIDS, Human Rights, Interfaith Relations, Media, Profiles, Resource Extraction, Youth & Children.

Actions

The Action Focus programme is an advocacy and solidarity nexus providing concrete ways to respond to urgent action appeals. Participants learn more about critical issues and discover how they can act for human rights and justice—often by sending emails or letters to leaders (African and Northern). Sources include African activist organizations and NGOs in solidarity with Africa.

See the current actions at:
www.africafiles.org/actionfocus.asp